

Gender, Sexuality, & Women's Studies Program

An interdisciplinary academic program focusing on excellence in teaching and research relating to gender, sexuality, and women.

The Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies Program at the University of Pittsburgh announces a two-day international colloquium on the topic

MASCULINITY AND AFFECT

Thursday, April 6 and Friday, April 7, 2017
Noon–5 p.m.

University of Pittsburgh • 602 Cathedral of Learning • 4200 Fifth Avenue • Pittsburgh, PA 15260

Emotion and masculinity have been studied together for decades. But, what would it mean, in 2017, to place affect studies and masculinity studies into dialogue? What do concepts such as energy, force, or pre-conscious bodily sensation do to masculinity and to masculinity studies? Where does affect leave emotion?

We will spend two days generating thought on these and other questions. The colloquium will include presentations and reading groups that will involve scholars from a broad range of disciplines in the humanities and social sciences.

This event is free and open to the public.
